

You may have noticed that our New York State waterfall map is a little different (OK, a lot different) at the moment. That's because we are improving the map to be more user-friendly, and contain more useful information. This will be completed in a few weeks, so in the meantime, we put together a temporary New York State waterfall map that you can find below. Click each marker for the name and other information about that location. You will also be able to get directions from this map to help you plan your perfect waterfall roadtrip!
